March 2007

"It is through seeing and hearing, that one's personality is molded and developed"
Maria Montessori

Oh... the kids go marching 20 by 20, hurrah, hurrah!

March already! February flew by sooooo fast. The children are busy, busy, busy. The teachers are busy, busy, busy.

Re-registration went by smoothly and most spots are already taken. If you have also been busy, busy, busy and have neglected to bring in your re-registration forms, now is the time!

The construction of the new elementary classroom is progressing nicely. I'm told the wall will be up this week and soon after that the elementary children should be enjoying their new space and we in the preschool will be enjoying the use of the gym for those days when the energy is high and the weather is not co-operating! Todd, our resident construction fellow, has requested that the children do not play anywhere near where the gym door is. There is a lot of wood that may have nails in it and cable wires and so on. Just not safe.

PARTY, PARTY...

If at all possible, please very discreetly hand out invitations for parties to the parents or caregivers outside the classroom. When a child sees another getting an envelope from us and they don't get one feelings can be hurt. Thank you!

Mmmmmm...

Thank you to all the parents who ordered from Purdy's for Easter. It will be delivered over the Spring Break and will be distributed the week after. (if there's any left, ha ha)

Sorry...

We are sorry for the long delay with the January Scholastic book orders. It was somehow caught in the CN Rail strike and then it took some time to sort it all out. The new scholastic orders for March are due back by Wednesday, March 14.

Shrubs looking scrubby...

Parents, please try and have the children NOT run between the 2 large shrubs to the left of the school porch as you face the school. There is an ornamental grass that is really suffering. We will try and get the Church to put a little fence around it or something like that.

Thank you!

Many thanks to LILY LAVERTON for assisting with some 'prep' work here in the classroom. It is very much appreciated!!! And many thanks to all the parents who stepped up to the sign up sheet for snack!
